Secretary of State condemns attack in Antrim

Monday 9 March 2009

Secretary of State, Shaun Woodward MP has condemned the attack on soldiers in Antrim last night as "An act of criminal barbarism."

Mr Woodward said: "My thoughts are with the families of those killed and injured in this murderous attack. The Prime Minister is being kept closely informed.

"The contrast between those who serve the community and those who would destroy it could not be clearer.

"The people who did this will be pursued and they can be assured that they will never be able stop political progress in Northern Ireland."
