La Mon atrocity remembered

A memorial service has been held in Belfast to mark the 30th anniversary of the La Mon hotel bombing.

Relatives of the 12 people killed in the 1978 IRA atrocity gathered at Castlereagh Council offices this afternoon for a service of remembrance led by the Rev David McIlveen.

The DUP's Irish Robinson and Jimmy Spratt were also among those attending the service today.

The event follows criticism of the DUP from some of the La Mon families who have accused Ian Paisley of letting victims down by going into government with Sinn Fein.

More than 400 people were attending a dinner dance in La Mon, when the IRA incendiary device went off.

A wreath was laid at the La Mon garden in the council grounds today in memory of the seven women and five men who were killed in one of the worst attacks of the Troubles.
