City tribute to victims

Oct 29 2007 by Ben Turner, Liverpool Echo

A POIGNANT memorial service was held at St George's Hall for Kings Regiment soldiers killed in Northern Ireland.

The short service at the Northern Ireland memorial in St John's Gardens on Saturday was organised by former King's Regiment soldiers in memory of colleagues who died. It has been held since 2000.

The event was started to mark the 10th anniversary of the death of five King's soldiers killed on October 24, 1990.

The service has been endorsed by relatives of the victims.

Marie Hale, from Walton, the mother of Vincent Scott, one of the five soldiers who died in 1990, said: "It's lovely his friends still remember."
