Office of the First Minister and Deputy First Minister

Victims' Commissioner

Mr D O'Loan asked the Office of the First Minister and deputy First Minister to outline why it did not consider any of the existing candidates for the position of Victims' Commissioner to be suitable for appointment.

(AQO 543/08)

Rt Hon I Paisley and Mr M McGuinness: The people who were deemed appointable under the direct rule process can, if they so wish, have their names carried forward into the newly extended process. They won't have to reapply, will not be re-interviewed, and will be considered along with any further applicants who are deemed appointable.
