GAA WITHDRAWS PERMISSION FOR COMMEMORATION OF CRIMINAL

Nelson McCausland said:

"I am pleased that St. Pauls GAA Club have bowed to public outrage over the fact that an event to commemorate a dead murderer had been scheduled to take place in their facilities. They have made the correct decision to withdraw permission to allow this event to go ahead in their club facilities. This is the right and proper course of action. The DUP has said has made it clear that the GAA has a lot of work to do in order to persuade the public that they are a purely sporting organisation. I acknowledge that representatives of the club have done the decent thing in this case and denied use of their facilities for a commemoration of murder and criminal Christopher "Crip" McWilliams. People will welcome this decision."
