Latest News:

SIMPSON - HET SHOULD BE FREE FROM POLITICAL INTERFERENCE

During Northern Ireland Questions in the House of Commons Upper Bann MP David Simpson asked the Security Minister to clarify that there would be no political interference with the Historical Enquiries Team's work. Speaking from Westminster the DUP MP said,

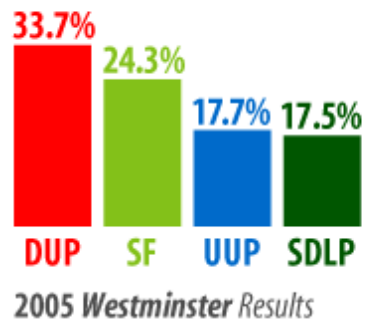

"The DUP has always stated that everyone is equal under the law and subject to the law and it is important that there is no political interference with those responsible for administering justice.

The Government should give an assurance that where the Historical Enquiries Team uncovers links between former paramilitary personnel who they believe to be responsible for horrendous crimes then regardless of their position today they should still be questioned about their involvement as no one is above the law.

ELECTION RESULTS:

DUP: Leading for Ulster

There are numerous unsolved murders throughout Northern Ireland and it is vital that the relatives of those victims are given closure."
