

NATIONAL ARCHIVESIRELAND

Reference Code: 2002/8/481

Title: Statement by Taoiseach Jack Lynch giving the text of a telegram he sent to British Prime Minister Edward Heath and Northern Ireland Prime Minister Brian Faulkner at their meeting at Chequers, regarding the military operations and internment in Northern Ireland, and the support of the Irish government for the policy of passive resistance there.

Creation Date(s): 19 August, 1971

Level of description: Item

Extent and medium: 2 pages

Creator(s): Department of the Taoiseach

Access Conditions: Open

Copyright: National Archives, Ireland. May only be reproduced with the written permission of the Director of the National Archives.

S.18650

R/Leinster 20/8
Mr. Toagher 20/8/71
C.S. ✓

19.8.71

The following statement has today been issued by the Government Information Bureau on behalf of the Taoiseach:-

A telegram was sent today by the Taoiseach, Mr. John Lynch, T.D., to the meeting at Chequers between the British Prime Minister, Mr. Edward Heath, accompanied by senior British Ministers, and Mr. Brian Faulkner, Head of the Stormont Administration.

The following is the text:-

The events since the introduction of internment without trial on Monday, 9th August, clearly indicate the failure of internment and of current military operations as a solution to the problems of Northern Ireland. It must now be obvious to you that solutions require to be found through political means and should be based on the principle of immediate and full equality of treatment for everyone in Northern Ireland irrespective of political views or religion.

In the event of the continuation of existing policies of attempting military solutions I intend to support the policy of passive resistance now being pursued by the non-Unionist population.

In the event of agreement to a policy of finding solutions by political means I am prepared to come to a meeting of all the interested parties designed to find ways and means of promoting the economic,

2.

social and political wellbeing of all the Irish people,
North or South, without prejudice to the aspiration of the great majority of the Irish people to the re-unification of Ireland.